We see the potential for a beautiful partnership let us tell you why

STERIS has over 20 years experience and expertise in healthcare so we think we are well placed to help you with the supply of your own surgical instruments and consumables into the veterinary market. Here is why.

Due to our own inhouse manufacturing capabilities we are not only able to supply a medical grade product, but, we think the prices will surprise you as well. With over 4000 instruments in our medical range (and some veterinary specialist forgings as well) we are confident we can work together in achieving an outstanding range of instruments for you in the market. Our capabilities don't end there, our healthcare consumables division is a market leader globally with manufacturing facilities in the UK.

To make this as tangible offer as possible we have separated this brochure into two parts:

- 1 Surgical Instruments
- 2 Consumables

Why STERIS Animal Health as your Surgical Instrument Supplier?

We manufacture and inspect* all of our surgical instruments in alignment with British Standards and ISO13485. These are the Internationally recognised standards for quality Specifically designed for medical devices

We are so confident in the quality of our surgical instruments that every instrument you purchase from us carries a 10 year manufacturers guarantee*. If a problem is identified and it relates to the manufacturing process we will replace that item no questions asked

Our manufacturing processes align to lean principles, we strive for continuous improvement enabling us to successfully support our Customers in the safe and effective care of their pet patients

*Batch inspections This excludes damage, wear and tear or non-material based defects

It is your choice as to how you work with us:

How we work with you

Once you have decided on the best way to work with us, you can expect to have an initial meeting with our team so that we understand what you are trying to achieve, your plans for growth and how we can support your long term objectives. Our belief is that our partners work in collaboration with us to agree mutually beneficial goals

Once a working arrangement has been agreed the day to day management of your agreement will be managed by our Operations Team supported by product development where any additional product needs arise. For our minimum order volume contracts you can also expect a yearly meeting with our Head of Corporate Development, Clinical Development Specialist and your management to ensure we are meeting our agreed strategic aims.

We know you are busy so we like to try and make life as simple as possible by providing great products with supportive Customer service.
